A RAINY DAY.

Longfellow's poem recalled sad memories. "Into each life some rain must fall, some days be dark and dreary," but "Aunt May" couldn't reconcile herself to believe this, and told us over and over again that "life is what we make it," and so we read over old letters, laughing at the expressions of rare, sweet affection and crying over the loss of dear ones dead.

Then "Peg" suggested making candy, which at once interested the children, and we grown-up folks enjoyed eating after the confection was pulled.

Looking out of the window we saw lakes of water everywhere, in all directions, while a mist of vapor white as the walls of Jerusalem in poetry, and deep as the pool of Siloam, enwrapped us with a garment of unknown texture.

A feeling of resignation came over us! Suppose we played as do the children that we were lost some where? That we were inhabitants of some island lost to the eye of even the ancient mariner. "Let's do it," said the wise man who sat opposite. "I'll get a boat and together we can sail the seas over. Come!" And foolish like she followed him as she had always thought to do through life into another eternity.

They packed up the lunch in a pink slip basket, it consisted of biscuit, sack of candy and a package of chewing gum.

She wore her old blue dress with a rain coat. Her hair tied up under a big brimmed hat with a veil of blue for a covering; and her hands enveloped in a pair of uncle Ben's gloves.

The "wise man" put on uncle Tom's overcoat, and his old white felt, a pair of rubber boots and a section of gloves made him a creature much to be admired.

They were full of excitement over the contemplated outing. No convoy of princess could have held nobler freight than the bonny boat in which they "set sail" for the enchanted land to which they journeyed. The "wise man" had the last word: "Are you afraid?"

"Not I." Said the woman who like Longfellow's Indian Maiden held silence as a sweet morsel. And the boat pushed off. They were away upon the sea of mist. The woman shivered and the right arm of the "wise man" held her in a close embrace.

It was all so real, just like the story told in the picture book, playing with uncertain fate. The white curtain of mist parted letting them into a beautiful sea of emerald encircled by water lilies, swans in the warm sunshines and the atmosphere was redolent with perfume.

The silence grew with renewed presence of comradeship. The two who had promised faith sat entranced with hands clasped and idle oars. It was indeed an ideal vision seen through colored glasses. "Will you go through life with me, dearest, and endure the poverty or riches, and the frowns of friends?"

She answered with quivering lips and wet lashes:

"It is to be only as a told story in the book of pictures, just a make believe happiness of your own imagining, or am I to trust all you say with the faith that knows no wavering?"

He turned his face away. Long thoughts were his. Had he best tell her that it could never be, or let the "play go on" in the sweet simplicity of a child's dream!

Back to the old world out world he turned the boats head, and spoke to the woman as gently as if she had been the wife of his youth.

"The play is over, dearest!" Life is too real for fabrication. See the coming shower and your sweet face is as white as the lily pads. For give my bringing you out into this enchanted world and forget that we sailed together to the Isles of Play."

The boat grated on the land. Hand in hand the two friends walked through mist up to the real earth.

She had learned the lesson known to Longfellow, "Into her life the rain had fallen," and the day was done!

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Frankfort, March 4, 1907.

To the N. G. Officers and Members of Capital Lodge No. 6, I. O. O. F.:

Your committee, on the demise of P. G. C. W. Merchant, beg leave to submit the following:

P. G. C. W. Merchant was born in the city of Lexington, Ky., on August 31, 1831. He was the youngest of five brothers. When he was fifteen years of age he was apprenticeship by an older brother to learn the printer's trade, and those who knew him well say that he made one of the fastest and most accurate type setters of his day. After working at his trade for a number of years he then enlisted in the U. S. Army February 15, 1865, and a brave and gallant soldier he proved to be on the field of battle. In one of the battles with the hostile Indians he was severely wounded in his face with a lance in the hands of an enemy of his country. In the course of time the lance wound healed, but left an ugly scar, which he wore the remainder of his life, which proved to be, and was recognized as, a badge of honor, made in the defense of his country. No man ever wore the uniform of U. S. soldier who was more gallant and patriotic than Cale Merchant. He shed his life's blood in his country's cause, and would have given his life at any time if necessary to prove his fidelity to his country he loved so well.

When his enlistment time had expired, he was given an honorable discharge and endorsed upon that discharge were these words: "A special mark of honor: 'A brave and gallant soldier and a trustworthy man'."

His honorable discharge papers show that he was in several different engagements of battles in defense of his country. In one of the many battles in which he was engaged he was again wounded, this time in the leg. When he enlisted the second time, February 16, 1860, he was brevetted as Major and assigned to Fort Leavenworth to drill and instruct West Point Cadets at the old cavalry schools at that time stationed at Fort Leavenworth.

On May 16, 1870, he joined Capital Lodge No. 6, I. O. O. F., and the great interest he took in the order soon advanced him to the highest office in the lodge, and for many long years afterwards he proved his devotion to the order by giving it all the time he could possibly spare to promoting its interests in every possible way that he could until failing health and advancing age interfered.

On February 16, 1897, the spirit of this gallant old soldier and devoted Odd Fellow took its flight to its Maker, who gave it; therefore, be it Resolved, 1st. That the country has lost one of its best and most patriotic citizens, a man who proved his great love for his country by defending it in so many sanguinary battles.

Resolved, 2d. That Capital Lodge, No. 6, I. O. O. F., has lost one of its oldest and best members, a man who loved and lived up to the principles that the great order inculcates in the minds and hearts of all who prove to be its devotees.

Resolved, 3d. That the charter of this lodge be draped in mourning and that the members wear the mourning badge of the order for thirty days.

Resolved, 4th. That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this meeting, and a copy sent to the family of deceased brother.

INCREASED APPROPRIATION FOR STATE COLLEGE.

HIDDEN DANGERS.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Frankfort Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

It is gratifying to the friends of that splendid institution, State College, to learn that the late Congress passed a bill increasing the appropriation for the benefit of the various Agricultural and Mechanical Colleges of the country. The State College will now receive $25,000 per annum.

"Preventives" will promptly check a cold or the Grippe when taken early or at the "sneeze stage." Preventives cure seated colds as well. Preventives are little candy cold cure tablets, and Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis., will gladly mail you samples and a book on Colds free, if you will write him. The samples prove their merit. Check early Colds with Preventives and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Theirs Frankfort proof:

W. H. Roberts, grocer, of 330 Todd street, says: "Being in the drug business a good many years and a graduate pharmacist, and my knowledge of medicine was sufficient to prove that my kidneys were not performing the work which nature intended they should, for I suffered a great deal from a persistent aching pain across the small of my back, and the secretions from the kidneys were highly colored, and so irregular, especially at night, that my rest was greatly disturbed. It was not until some two or three years ago that I learned about Doan's Kidney Pills and I sent to a large neighboring city and got a box. I gained so much from the use of these Pills that I pronounce them a kidney remedy of unequalled merit. My last supply was procured at J. W. Gayle's drug store and I take a dose of them once in a while as a tonic for the kidneys. A number of friends of mine to whom have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills have used them with great benefit."

Burglar Arrested.

Albert Harris, colored, a former employee of Mrs. L. C. Norman, was arrested Thursday night, charged with burglary. Harris had just returned from Louisville, and went to the Norman residence at supper time, and secured a revolver and a razor, which he confiscated. He was arrested by Officers Pierce and Reagan and found with the razor on his person. He was lodged in the lock-up.

BUYS RESIDENCE.

Mrs. Thos. P. Brown has purchased from Mrs. Shea, of Jeffersonville, Ind. (one of the McGraw heirs), the two-story frame residence on Shelby street, between Fourth Ave. and Campbell. Col. Jas. A. Scott made the deal. The price paid, which is said to be a stiff one, is private.

CORKERS AND TWISTERS.

By Mrs. O'Houlihan.

The defense of murder is a fine art in Kentucky, and the morbid sympathy that attaches to the murderer and makes him a hero instead of a criminal, tends to make human life very cheap. Strange how quickly human nature begins to hunt up, to imagine, and even to fabricate excuses to free the murderer of the consequences of his crime, and from the infliction of physical violence in a wordly warfare, anything is deemed sufficient to justify the taking of human life.

The dead man seldom seems to have any friends. Regrets are probably expressed, perhaps flowers sent, but this is all. The important point seems to get the murderer free. Insanity is a great dodge in the absence of any ready excuse. The officers of the law are sometimes ready to help. When the murderer, who killed his employer at Louisville, was convicted by the jury, the sheriff found a jury who declared him insane, and the officers of the asylum found a way to let him go, and he went free.

The plea advanced in the Thaw trial, in New York, that Thaw was insane when he killed White, and became sane immediately afterward, ought to forever disgrace the lawyer who made it.

Should the small-pox ever visit Frankfort, something more than a mere show of guarding the patients and those in contact with them should be observed. What advantage, for instance, in guarding the mouth of an alley, when people can easily pass across lots and through adjacent premises to the infected district. So, those taken to the pesthouse ought not to be taken during business hours, along the pavements, jostling against people as they pass. In fact, we doubt whether there is any good reason why the existence of the disease should be concealed from the public, thereby causing its increased spread by innocent contact through lack of knowledge. Some people love the almighty dollar so well, however, they would willingly see their fellow-citizen die if they could trade on their chances of life.

That ground hog should be watched for, caught and executed, unless he can prove he was insane, on the 2d of February, when he failed to return to his den through aberration of mind and despite the darkened sun.

Isn't it funny? The farmers complained of the monopoly of the Tobacco Trust, and then organized a Tobacco Trust, with iron-clad provisions themselves! Some are already complaining that this new trust is not keeping faith. Why did they not decline to plant tobacco at all? That would have diminished the supply and broken the trust monopoly.

RESIGNS POSITION.

Col. E. Polk Johnson, one of the cleverest all-around newspaper men in Kentucky (or anywhere else for that matter), has resigned his commission as Treasury Agent, under the U. S. Government, on account of ill health.

Col. Johnson has returned to his "old Kentucky home," in Louisville. Here's hoping he may soon be restored to health.

Excess

Of Smoking Affected My Heart

So I Had To Sit Up To Breathe.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Cured Me.

There is nothing that has a more deleterious effect upon the cardiac or heart nerves than excessive use of tobacco. Pain and tenderness around the heart, an oppressive feeling in the chest, choking sensation in the throat, discomfort from sleeping on the left side and shortness of breath are the symptoms of a sufferer who has to sit up in bed to breathe are the most common symptoms of a weak heart. Since the effects of smoking are so well known, we do not understand their meaning should they be warned in time by the following experience:

I was greatly troubled with an affection of the heart, and while I was unable to get relief, I went to Dr. Miles for advice. On writing to you for advice I was directed to begin a course of treatment which included Dr. Miles' Restorative and Nerve and Nerve and Nerve and Liver Pills, together with bathing, etc. I faithfully followed the directions and am pleased to say that my cure is complete and permanent. But for beginning the use of your remedies I was never so ill, nor have I kept my hands still and suffered so much from pain around the heart. Many times at night I would be forced to assume a sitting posture to get relief, and for a long time I would seem as though my heart had stopped beating. From the splendid results achieved in my case, I would like to advise Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, Restorative Nerve and other remedies to all sufferers from heart or nervous trouble. Yours truly, ELIJAH HALL, Dothan, Ala.

A WORD TO THE WISE.

As this is the season at which farmers are looking out for the best seeds of different kinds (and it goes without saying that every farmer should strive to have the very best), we would beg to offer a suggestion to the farmers of this country.

It is this: Buy the best seed only and of thoroughly reliable men. It always pays. In this connection we may say that we saw a lot of the finest seed corn it has ever been our fortune to look at on Monday last (county court day). It was on exhibition on the corner of Main and St. Clair streets, and consisted of one kind of white corn and three varieties yellow. The ears were firm and solid and the grains covered the cob completely out to the end, not leaving as many kinds do, the blackened and ragged end of the cob showing. The grains were firm and flinty and singularly free from faulty places.

This corn was raised by a gentleman who has made the matter a study for over twenty-five years, and thinks he has arrived at the best solution of the question of seeds.

At the same time he showed us some corn which he paid $3 per barrel for and it no more compared with the other than if it was not the same grain.

He showed us a ham, which weighed fifty pounds, the hog which produced it being raised by him and was fat-tended on the same variety of corn which he had on exhibition. He also showed us a middling, which came from a hog which he purchased from a neighbor, and it was so thin that one could almost see through it.

The gentleman we speak of has this seed corn for sale to any farmer who may want first class seed, and stands ready to make good any representations he may make, not only as to the corn, but as to hogs fattened upon it.

He asks that any one desiring to purchase come and examine the corn in the crib, so that they may know that it runs uniformly through the crop, and the bacon purchased from hogs fattened on it is just what is represented.

Mr. John P. Hostetter, of the Farmdale neighborhood, is the gentleman we allude to. His address is R. F. D. No. 2, Box 18, Lawrenceburg, Ky.

He is reliable in all his dealings.

MEETING OF WOMAN'S CLUB.

A meeting of the Woman's Club will be held at the residence of Mrs. W. E. Settle, Monday, March the 11th, at half past three o'clock.

[For the Roundabout.]

FAREWELL MOTHER.

After a lingering illness of several years, from paralysis and infirmities of age, Mrs. Martha Ann Kirk died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. S. Sharp, West Frankfort, on Friday evening, March 1st, at 5 o'clock, in the 77th year of her age.

Mrs. Kirk was born in Jasper, Indiana, and raised to early womanhood, when she came to Kentucky to visit her uncle, Mr. Anderson Powers, Sr., in the western portion of this county and there became acquainted with and married Mr. Richard Kirk, of this county, on August 28th, 1850. She was a pale, stout girl and the very embodiment of energy and life, bright and cheerful in disposition, beautiful in form and feature, not thinking for a moment of the clouds of sorrow and adversity that were to burst upon and hover over her so soon and so long. She joined the Methodist Church, at Graefenberg, in early life, and lived a devoted Christian woman.

On December 23, 1861, she laid to rest her oldest son, little Bonnie. The clouds then were gathering about her to stay. In October, 1862, I saw her give the parting kiss to her companion, as he turned to the Confederate Army. That left her with three small children on the farm with no one to help or guard them but God.

In the terms, as she put it, in 1864, her husband, Mr. Kirk, came home an invalid, never to regain his strength and manhood. The presence of one she loved, in the severest of suffering, was all she could enjoy of his presence. In October 5th, 1869, she was called to his bedside to put the last parting farewell on his dying face. That left her with six small children. She turned aside and prayed God not to forsake her in this hour of need. Again, on April 5th, 1882, the clouds hovered over her and she was called to say farewell to little Maggie. She held her hand until the last breath left her, and said "the Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away, blessed be the name of the Lord," and turned away in tears. She was spared to see the rest of her children grow to man and womanhood—two boys and three girls, Mr. Richard and Mr. Edward Kirk, of Bridgeport, and Mrs. Ellen Cardwell and Mrs. Elizabeth Cook, of Louisville, and Mrs. W. S. Sharp, of West Frankfort, and a host of relatives and friends are left to mourn her loss, for none ever knew her but to love her, nor were any ever sick or in need near her that she failed to find and help, ever trying and never failing, to do good in the world. Both by precept and example, amidst all her sorrows, she tried to be cheerful, but sometimes I have seen her alone and in tears. She would say, "I was just homesick." To the sorrowing ones we tender our heartfelt and deepest sympathy, feeling that we too have lost a kind friend. We have been made to know her kindness in hours of distress, and cheered by her when sorrow had hovered about us. Peace be to her ashes and may we, who will miss her so much, turn to her God and look to Him to direct our steps that our walk may be like hers, closer with God.

A FRIEND.

Cure Woman's Weaknesses.

We refer to that weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John Fye one of the Editorial Staff of THE MEDICAL REVIEW says: "The favorite prescription of Dr. Pierce (Golden Seal Diotect) which is one of the chief ingredients of 'Favorite Prescription':

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine tonic, the entire reproductive system."

He continues: "In females we have a medical prescription which is unique in its purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. It is a specific for the uterus, & acting in the back, with a leucorrhoeal (acute) (weak) condition of the reproductive organs, & associated with chronic diseases of the liver, kidneys, &c. It is peculiar to women & it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication of its use."

He adds: "The following are among the leading symptoms of the disease: Profuse menstruation, & aching in the back, with a leucorrhoeal (acute) (weak) condition of the reproductive organs, & associated with chronic diseases of the liver, kidneys, &c. It is peculiar to women & it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication of its use."

RONEY'S BOYS.

The high class of music which dominates the programs of "Roney's Boys" concerts is the wonder of musicians and the delight of lovers of the best in music. Educators everywhere, who are interested in having the highest ideals presented for the instruction and cultivation of a correct musical taste in young people, welcome the presentation of such standard music as an object lesson and an inspiration. The best is none too good for the American people, and the steady growth in musical taste so noticeable all over the country is gratifying proof of the wisdom of raising the standard of the programs every year. "Roney's Boys" Concert Company stands for the highest order of music and the most finished and artistic interpretation possible to attain with talented boys, as has nothing in common with the music of the vaudeville stage or the trashy effusions of the music halls.

It has carved out a niche of its own, stands in a class by itself in which there is no second, and yields to no considerations of "policy" to lower its musical standard and its prestige as a public educator in its line of work. There is absolutely no company like it or remotely approaching it, in either in America or Europe. The various costumes are rich, appropriate, and historically interesting. The boys are from different States and are not related to Mr. Roney.

Prof Roney has been training boys for twenty years. He will appear at Matinee and Evening Concerts at Capital Opera House, Thursday, March 21, for the benefit of the Ladies Aid Society of the First Baptist Church.

[For the Roundabout.]

IN MEMORY OF MY FRIEND OF YEARS AGONE, CALEB W. MERCHANT,

Who has passed to a better and a higher life, where he is as free as the wind to come and to go. For 76 years he enjoyed the pleasures, as well as shared the sorrows of this earth life. Years ago, when the writer of this was but a lad, he lived in the city of Lexington and worked as a typewriter on the Observer and Reporter, a paper edited by the late Col. Mike Wickliffe, and was familiarly known as Caleb, and was loved by all who knew him, for he was humane and one of Nature's Noblemen—a true type, as expressed in the prayer of the immortal Pope

"Help me to feel another's woe,
And hide the faults I see—
That mercy I to others show,
That mercy show to me."

On the 14th of Feb., 1855, he joined the U. S. Army and served five years, then re-enlisted and served through the war of the Rebellion and was discharged as a faithful soldier with honor. He then made Frankfort his home, where he was married to Miss Nannie Flynn, Sept. 1867. Here he entered the police department and served for a number of years. After the relentless fingers of time had fastened upon him the stamp of old age, he was given a position at the customhouse in Frankfort, Ky., as a reward of true merit.

He leaves a most estimable wife and four children to mourn his transition. Mrs. Eastin of Lexington, Mrs. A. W. Nezor, Mr. Hugh and Mr. C. W. Merchant, all of Frankfort, Ky. He affiliated with the Episcopalian church and was a man among men.

Peace to your ashes, dear friend, may they rest.

While your spirit shall roam in the realms of the blest,
Mid flowers, sweet flowers in God's garden above,

In that land ever fragrant with love, sweet love.

The News—No pure Drug Cough Cure Laws would be needed, if all Cough Cures were like Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure—is—and has been for 20 years. The National Law now requires that if any poisons enter into a cough mixture, it must be printed on the label or package.

For this reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison-marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best—a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. THE WELD THAT HELD

"PITTSBURGH PERFECT" FENCES ARE WELDED BY ELECTRICITY.

Science has developed something infinitely better than the old-style wrap or clamp.

This is the modern method of construction. Years of life are added through the elimination of serious fence defects.

A WRAP holds moisture, cracks the galvanizing and allows the water to attack the bare wire. A small amount of displaced galvanizing on "PITTSBURGH PERFECT" REINFORCES THE PROTECTION AGAINST RUST AT THE ELECTRICALLY WELDED JOINT; examine the joint.

STAYS CANNOT SLIP. They are always just where they were put. Stay and strand wires become one piece when the union is made. The fence is like a solid sheet of perforated steel.

Every Rod is Guaranteed Perfect.

Don't allow your prejudice in favor of the rapidly-declining and now antiquated methods you have heretofore held, to warp your good judgment.

"PITTSBURGH PERFECT" FENCES REPRESENT PROGRESS, because hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of standard material is daily welded by electricity.

The hoop on the average sugar barrel in the isolated country grocery store is an electrically welded product.

If your wagon was made in a large factory, its tires were welded by electricity.

You will find electrically welded hoops on ice cream freezers and washing machines, on many tubs and buckets. Examine them.

MR. FARMER: LISTEN, NOW. Every agent handling "PITTSBURGH PERFECT" fences is authorized to guarantee this:

That the wires are not injured at the joints.
That the fence is perfectly adjustable to uneven ground.
That the stays will not separate from the strands.
That the fence is all right in every particular.

Could you ask any more definite protection? Your complete satisfaction is absolutely assured.

COUNTY COURT DAY.

Monday last was county court day and there was an unusually large crowd in town.

A large number of mules were on the market. They ran from common to first-class, and they brought top prices.

A good supply of horses were offered —plugs, common, good and extra. Prices went skipping, and on that account not many sales of good ones were made.

There was a marked absence of other stock, and of course, no sales to amount to anything.

The farmers were discussing the tobacco question in all its phases. It is conceded that, all things else being equal, there will be a big crop set out on the hill this season.

FRANKLIN COUNTY FAIR IS A GO.

That there will be an old-fashioned county fair held here this year seems to be an assured fact.

Arrangements have been made with the Traction Co. whereby Glenwood Park has been secured and all the necessary improvements will be made.

Our older citizens well remember what attractive and successful fairs were held here a number of years ago, and there is no reason why we should not have even better ones than they were, for the facilities are now far better.

SOME FACTS AND FIGURES ABOUT THE KENTUCKY EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION.

In order to get exact condition of the Association in Kentucky, let us make some comparison and give a few figures. The membership of the Indiana State Teachers' Association for the year 1906 was about 2,300, while that of Ohio was but little less. In each State, almost, if not every county in the State had its representatives present. Hundreds of teachers representing the public school, the college and the university alike, were present at every session, and the meetings throughout were full of interest, enthusiasm and business. Let us see how this compares with the last meeting of the Kentucky Association. The enrollment for the year was 142. Of the 119 counties, 72 did not have a single teacher present. Only five counties in the State had more than five teachers present. Only 26 counties had superintendents present. The number in attendance by Congressional districts were as follows: First, 9; second, 31; third, 36; fourth, 15; fifth, 5; sixth, 4; seventh, 17; eighth, 6; ninth, 4; tenth, 3; eleventh, 4. By counties the attendance was as follows: Franklin, 10; Henderson, 7; Christian, 6; Fayette and Jefferson, 5 each; Barren and Hart, 4 each; Hardin, Union and Spencer, 3 each; Grayson, Green, Graves, Gallatin, Clark, Campbell, Calloway, Boyd, Boyle, Allen, Todd, Rowan, Pusaski, McCracken, Madison, Logan and LaRue, 2 each; Fulton, Cumberland, Bourbon, Bell, Ballard, Trigg, Simpson, Ohio, Nelson, Muhlenburg, Morgan, Monroe, McLean, Livingston, Lincoln, Hopkins, Hickman and Henry, 1 each. This is certainly a deplorable condition of affairs, and so long as it continues we may expect but little progress along educational lines. From the Legislature we can demand but little, and expect nothing. A few of the faithful gather themselves together and they are often times benefitted, but the great rank of State's teachers are untouched. The teachers who need the benefit never get it, and the great educational wave that should be set in motion, and that should affect every county in the State, rarely ever gets beyond the limits of the city in which the meeting is held. As to where the fault lies we are not at all certain. The officers of the association have been faithful, and have done all that we could expect them to do. We believe the fault in a large measure is with the city and county superintendents and the leaders of education throughout the State. The next meeting of the association will be held at Winchester on June 18, 19, 20, 1907. It should be the greatest and best meeting ever held in the State. At least 1,600 teachers should be enrolled, and we believe they will be. Every county in the State should be well represented. Let every educational institution, every county and city superintendent, and every teacher go to work at once to make the next association a record breaker.

The Work of the Next Meeting of Kentucky Educational Association.

The Kentucky Educational Association in the past has not accomplished what it should have accomplished. It has not given the power for good that it should have been. In many States of the Union it is a great moving power and its work and influence are felt in every section of the State. Its demands upon the State Legislature are carefully considered and as a rule enacted into law. All these things can and should be accomplished by the Kentucky Educational Association. Make it a business affair, put the proper spirit into it and it will give an impetus to the educational life of the State, the like of which has never been known.

Suppose we can have an attendance of 2,000 teachers. Let them come to think and to work. Let them come for business and for the welfare and future happiness of the youth of our State. The good results that would come from such a meeting are without imitation. On the other hand, suppose we have only a few teachers from one-fourth of the counties of the State. What can we hope to accomplish? What could we expect from the legislators? Absolutely nothing.

They would simply look at the teaching force of the State as an aimless unorganized class, without purpose and caring little whether or not we progress or retrograde. If the county and city superintendents will do their duty we can have the teachers there. So let the superintendents begin organizing at once. Let the teacher know that the call has been made and it is his duty to go. Let him understand that it is a business proposition and that the investment will yield an enormous dividend. It would be well in this connection to say something of the reorganization of the Kentucky Educational Association. The committee having this meeting in charge is working constantly, and the matter is now well under way. The general conduct of the reorganization is being done skillfully by Sups. Rhoads, Mark and Crabbe and by the time of the next meeting will have a permanent membership made up of the most enthusiastic teachers in the State. The plan will be to follow that of the National Educational Association. There will be a permanent membership and all persons engaged in any kind of educational work will be eligible. Full proceedings, including all addressed and the names of all members, will be published in book form and these, with other pamphlets of information, will be sent regularly to all permanent members, whether or not they attend the meetings of the association.

In this way all may have the proceedings and addresses even when they find it impossible to attend the meetings. These documents will be valuable to any teacher, and no doubt hundreds of teachers who can not attend the association will become members in order to secure these valuable papers.

Within a few days the secretary will begin sending out circulars explaining the nature in full of the Kentucky Educational Association in the future, and all persons who desire to become members should send their name and address to him at once.

EMPIRE.

"The Mayor of Laughland," this week's attraction at the Empire, is undoubtedly one of the best, if not the best, production presented this season at the uptown playhouse and the theatre's patrons seem to know utmost capacity both afternoon and evening yesterday, and that the audiences were not disappointed in their expectations was evidenced by the most enthusiastic applause and waves of laughter from the rise to the fall. Dorothy Webb, Albert and Major Casper Nowak, the latter that immensely amusing little comedian, are the three stars, supported by actors and comedians of more than usual ability, such as Al. H. Lang, Walter V. Milton, William St. Whiles, James Revere and Elaine D. Gilbert. Tom Waters, well-known to Pittsburghers, made more than good in his role of "Mayor of Laughland." He was immensely funny as the Irish politician. Miss Abbott, as his daughter, Eileen, was most charming and graceful little body, can dance, sing and act admirably, won many admirers at the outset of the entertainment, and held them to the last moment. Nowak, proved his ability to create the midget comedian, only 28 inches tall, to the full satisfaction of the audience. The music is bright and catchy and a sprightly chorus of pretty girls who can dance and sing well enhanced the performance.

There is practically no plot, just a musical comedy story of the son and daughter of two men, who are enemies, falling in love. The pompous Irish mayor of a little town takes exception to the political speeches of a German professor, who lines up the vote of

STRANGE ADVICE!

Dr. G. Green gives strict personal directions to his great humanitarian contract.

In our Almanac for many years past we have given unsolicited advice to those afflicted with coughs, colds, throat or lung troubles or consumption. We have told them if they did not receive special treatment to buy the new 75-cent size bottle of German Syrup, to consult their doctor. «We did not ask them or urge them to use a large number of bottles, as is the case in advertising of many other remedies. Our confidence in German Syrup makes it possible for us to give such advice. «We know by the experience of over 35 years that one 75-cent bottle of German Syrup will speedily relieve the sufferer from a cough, cold, bronchial or lung troubles and that, even in bad cases of consumption, one large bottle of German Syrup will work wonders. «New trial bottles, 25¢, regular size, 75¢.
